Learning & Training event November 2022

The third learning meeting of the CultSense trajectory took place on 17 and 18 November in Antwerp and had the central theme of Culturally Sensitive Care at an organizational level. How to bring about structural changes when it comes to culturally sensitive care?

Several interesting speakers were present. For example, Sofi Van Ussel gave us a short introduction to organizational design with the main question: does organizing differently help to advance Culturally Sensitive Care? Stephan Ummelen took us through the importance of values in your organization and how you include everyone in these values and we spoke with Saloua Berdai-Chaouni about the importance of a sustainable inclusion policy in the care organization. During a sofa conversation, the practical experiences of IMEAN and Carintreggeland were discussed in more detail. With all this inspiration, we entered into a dialogue together and took steps forward towards the blueprint for the development of a culture-sensitive education program at European level.
